

You

by Oram/Matschewsky January 2013

G f# e d h g a h c# Adim6 Bbdim6e Bme f# e d h g a Bme Cme F#e

Dmaj7 D6
The world's growing darker and ready for rest
D7 D6
The sun's hanging over the hills in the west
Em(g) G(d) G(c#) A7
I think back to the times I remember the best
D5 Dmaj7 D6 B7
like the first time I watched you get slowly undressed

Solo Em A D Bm Em Adim Bbdim

Dmaj7 D6
And do you remember, think back if you can,
D7 D6
how I was the envy of every man Em(g) G(d) G(c#) A7
how everyone noticed while passing us by D5 Dmaj7 D6 B7
he seductively innocent gleam in your eye

Em(g) A7 e f# g D5
oh yes you were beautiful, fearless and strong Em7 D5 d c# h F#7
stood out like a jewel from the nondescript throng
G A7 D5
yet the river of time it cannot be delayed E9(no 3rd) F#7 D5 Adim
and the fairest of roses must finally fade

Em Dm Adim

Dmaj7 D6
we were loving too fierce and living too fast
D7 D6
never knew that the present could slip to the past
Em(g) G(d) G(c#) A7
but the garden of eden's not given for life
D5 Dmaj7 D6 B7
and the future cut in like the blade of a knife.